Cole, of the District of Columbia, passed in equity cause No. 412, dated 24, on the 27th day of April, 1882, and a further decree, of the same date, on the 29th day of April, 1882, the trustees were compelled and demanded defendant, we will and do hereby direct and command the same, SATHURDAH, the 22d day of April, 1882, at 12 o'clock p.m., to sell the whole or part of the following five hundred and eighty-six (586) improved lots, situated on Maryland Avenue, between Second and Third streets east, and within a distance of about one-half mile from the Capitol.

C. G. COOK, chairman of the Committee on Elections, then called upon the United States election case of Campbell vs. Cannon.

Mr. Neal, from the Committee on Civil Service Reform, reported back the resolution calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information relative to the appointment of professors of mathematics in the service. Adopted.

Mr. Ilsebeck, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, moved to adjourn the conference on the Post-Office appropriation bill, had been unable to agree, and moved that the Senate further insist on its adoption.

A discussion disclosed the fact that the point in controversy was the Senate's insistence for special mail facilities on trunk lines, coupled with the proposal of the Postmaster General of allowing the same on the basis of a corresponding charge to be levied on the business centres of the country.

Mr. Allison stated the position of the creation and Messrs. Beck, Davis of West Virginia, and Maxey strongly advocated adhering to the provision inserted by the Senate.

On the other hand, Ingalls, the subject was temporarily referred to the Appropriations Committee, and the Senate (at 5:30 p.m.) adjourned until Wednesday.

House of Representatives.
Mr. Tucker corrected the journal so as to show that he voted in favor of the passage of the Claymore bill, his name having been accidentally omitted.

Mr. Neal, from the Committee on Civil Service Reform, reported back the resolution calling on the Secretary of the Navy for information relative to the appointment of professors of mathematics in the service. Adopted.

Mr. Ilsebeck, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, moved to adjourn the conference on the Post-Office appropriation bill, had been unable to agree, and moved that the Senate further insist on its adoption.

A. A. ANUS, of the Maryland Committee on Appropriations, moved to adjourn the conference on the Post-Office appropriation bill, stating that the conference were unable to agree to a vote.

Mr. Campbell explained that the point of difference was in the matter of increasing from $600,000 to $600,000 the appropriation for special mail facilities. On all other points the conference were in full agreement.

The report was agreed to, a new conference ordered, and Messrs. Caswell, Cannon, and Ells appointed as conferees on the part of the Senate.

Mr. Caswell, of Mississippi, advanced the claims of Cannon to a seat, contending that the House alone had no authority to declare what should be done with respect to the same by a Delegate, but that that power resided in Congress.

Mr. Thompson, of Iowa, argued in support of his minority position. He said that Cannon's right to sit was based upon his position in the fact that there is nothing in Governor Murray's certificate to show that Mr. Campbell was a minority candidate, and that the House should not be admitted on a prima facie case.

Mr. House combated the position taken in the majority report, as follows: "An attempt has been made to predominate in the right of representation in the House, and to deprive it of the right of representation in the Senate." A pamphlet, containing an eloquent address to the nation, was read and applauded.

It is a matter then went over for the day. There will be five hours more debate on the question before the previous question is demanded.

On motion of Mr. Neal, a bill was passed to provide for the payment of any sum necessary.

The speaker announced the appointment of Messrs. Burrows of Michigan, Robeson of New Jersey, and Birney of Pennsylvania, as the diplomatic and comnarative apporionment.

The Speaker laid before the House a message from the President transmitting a resolution from the Senate, Nov. 3, 1881, concerning the establishment of an Indian training-school in the site of the old Fort Riley military reservation, in Missouri.

The House then adjourned.
